

The Wild Felid Research and Management Association

The Wild Felid Research and Management Association (WFA) is a professional association open to researchers, wildlife managers, educators and others dedicated to the conservation of all wild felid species, with an emphasis on those species in the Western Hemisphere. The WFA acts in an advisory capacity to facilitate wild felid conservation, management, research, and public education, and functions among various governments, agencies, councils, universities and organizations responsible or interested in wild felids and their habitats.

In This Issue

VOICES

- 1 Connecting wild felid habitats across the U.S. - Mexico Border
- 15 Why we do it

COUNCIL NEWS

- 3 From the President
- 5 WFA Council election results
- 5 Regional update - Arizona
- 5 New journals
- 6-7 WFA Council and regional representatives
- 14 Wild cats of the Western Hemisphere
- 25-26 WFA member application and survey
- 27 Future Events
- 28 Getting involved with the WFA

STUDENT CORNER

- 10 2009 Wild Felid Legacy Scholarship recipient
- 10-11 Student research projects

MANAGEMENT NEWS

- 12 Interagency Florida panther response plan
- 12 Critical habitat for Canada lynx revised
- 12 Saskatchewan cougar update
- 13 AZDGF extends moratorium on mountain lion control in Kofa NWR in Arizona extend

NOTES FROM THE FIELD

- 16 Introducing the Yale Large Carnivore Group
- 17 Evaluating bobcat habitat in Vermont
- 18 Chaco jaguar conservation project
- 19 Eastward movement of cougars in Canada
- 20 Wild felids in northeastern Argentina

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

- 21 GPS collar failures in cougars

RESEARCH HIGHLIGHTS

- 22-23 Research abstracts
- 24 Recent Publications

Cover page photo credit: Florida panther, Alicia Aleman
Last page photo credit: Susan Morse, info@keepingtrack.org
WFA logo designed by Ben Wright, ben@bwrightimages.com

The Wild Felid Monitor is the biannual newsletter of the Wild Felid Research and Management Association
PO Box 3335, Montrose CO 81402 USA E-mail: wildfelidmonitor@gmail.com; Websites: www.wildfelid.org & www.wildfelid.com

Managing Editor: Chris Papouchis, papouchis@gmail.com

Newsletter Committee: Chris Belden, Melanie Culver, Sharon Negri, Chris Papouchis, Linda Sweanor, Mike Tewes

Editorial Policy

The Wild Felid Monitor encourages submission of articles, information and letters on ecology, research, management and conservation of wild felid species, and particularly of those species native to the Western Hemisphere. Preferred length of submissions is about 750 words. Submissions of photos, drawings and charts are encouraged. Electronic submissions to wildfelidmonitor@gmail.com are preferred; otherwise mail to the address above. The WFA reserves the right to accept, reject and edit submissions. The artwork is copyrighted – Please do not reproduce without permission.

Deadline for the Winter 2010 issue is October 15, 2009